TACTICAL TIPS + TRICKS: Tremendous, Terrific, Techniques + Tips Chess as a Numbers Game! #1

Hi guys, a very important general tip when playing, is to remember that chess is very much a numbers game when we break it right down. This idea, applies to really everything we do when we play chess. The more pieces we have attacking the stronger our attack will be. The more pieces we have defending the stronger our defence will be. The value of each piece determines whether a trade is good, bad or even. The closer a pawn gets to reaching the end = the stronger it becomes. That is because, it has a smaller number of squares it has to go towards reaching promotion. And finally, perhaps the most key point of all. The more chess games you play the better. Win, lose or draw, we learn from each experience playing, and practice makes perfect. :)

PESKY PUZZLES:

In each position find the best move/moves.

White to move = W Black to move = B

Question:
Which BLACK piece can we simply make run out of space here? How?
